

TCCHD's home visiting program provides the information, support, and encouragement parents need to help their children develop optimally during their crucial early years of life.

- Parents are their children's first and most influential teachers.
- The early years of a child's life are the most critical for physical, social and emotional development; and provide the foundation for future successes.
- All children and their families deserve the same opportunities for success, regardless of demographic, economic or geographic differences.

Personal Visits

Family Support Specialists share age-appropriate child information, help parents learn to observe and interact with their own children, address parenting concerns, and engage the family in activities that provide meaningful parent-child interaction.

Screening

Periodic screenings provides for early identification of physical, social or emotional delays or problems. Regular review of each family's progress identifies strengths and abilities as well as areas of concern that may require referral and follow-up services while increasing the parent's understanding of typical development.

Resource Network

Family Support Specialists help families identify and connect with needed resources and agencies.

Cultural Competency Vision

All cultures are openly welcomed and valued. Multiculturalism is appreciated and practiced to enhance the value of our work through respectful curiosity of one another's culture and developing a reciprocal relationship of mutual caring and learning.

TCCHD Home Visiting Services

Affiliated with Healthy Families of America (HFA) and funded by the following grants:

Ohio Help Me Grow

GROWING GREAT KIDS (GGK)

HEALTHY RELATIONSHIPS HEALTHY DEVELOPMENT

All home visitors are trained in the Growing Great Kids Curriculum which provides a "how to" guide for supporting parents and developing parenting competencies. It takes the "guesswork" out of what to do.
